

Outcome in context// You need to show how your work will be used/worn/seen by users or the audience.

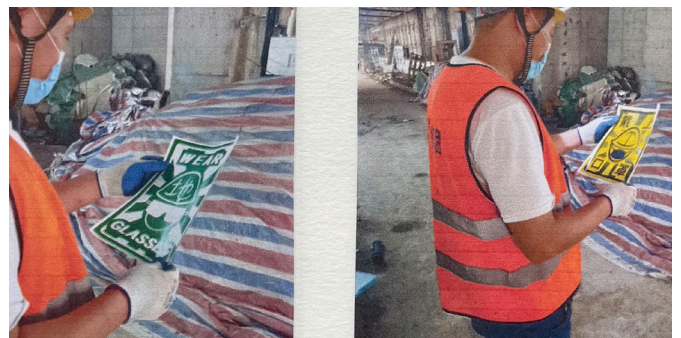

Final drawings, models or mock ups

Simulate how the result would look like in reality through a drawing, a photomontage, a 3D model or a mock-up.

Outcome tested and used

Simulate how the audience or users would use the outcome through photographs or videos. You can also test it with your real users if possible.

Final photo shooting

1. Book the photo studio or go outside and take picture of your outcome being used or worned.
2. Take pictures of your outcome with people and without people.
3. Think about the space chosen, the light, the model and the different viewpoints (large shot, details, etc.)
